About Sengkang General Hospital

Located in the heart of North-Eastern Singapore, Sengkang General Hospital (SKH) delivers integrated, accessible healthcare to meet the evolving needs of our vibrant community. Our team of healthcare professionals embraces a collaborative, multi-disciplinary approach to patient care. This seamless integration extends beyond our walls—we work closely with polyclinics, general practitioners, and other healthcare providers to ensure patients receive timely, appropriate specialist care for both acute and complex conditions.

As a member of the SingHealth Duke-NUS Academic Medical Centre, SKH is committed to advancing medical education and research while delivering excellent clinical care. Together with SingHealth's network of healthcare institutions, we drive medical excellence and innovation to create better health outcomes for our community.
